Privacy Policy

At the Cavotec Group your privacy is important to us, and we are committed to protecting your Personal Data in accordance with applicable data protection laws and this Privacy Policy (“Policy”). The Cavotec Group comprises the parent company, Cavotec S.A., headquartered at Corso Elvezia 16, 6900 Lugano, Switzerland, and all its EEA and UK subsidiaries and affiliates (also referred to below as “Cavotec”, “we”, “us” and “our”).

This Policy applies to those companies of the Cavotec Group who have posted this Policy on their websites. All Cavotec Group sites to which this Policy is applicable are collectively referred to as this “Site”.

This Policy outlines our data processing practices, where we Process Personal Data gathered from and about Site visitors, our customers, vendors and suppliers.

If you reside in the EEA, the UK or Switzerland, or where EEA, UK or Swiss data protection laws apply, please see Section 5 for additional information.

1. Personal Data we collect and from where

a. Personal Data we collect directly from you

We collect the following categories of Personal Data through the Site and in communications we receive from you:

- Personal Details, such as name, contact details including telephone number, e-mail address or mailing address;
- Business Information, such as company name, its market, your job title, role and department in the company, your company’s order or serial/PO number; and
- Inquiries, requests and other communications with you, the products of interests you indicated, the type and category of subjects you raise with us, and our responses.

b. Personal Data collected automatically from your devices

When you browse our Site, we may collect technical information about you and your device through technology such as “cookies”. Such information includes for instance your IP address. For further details in this respect, please see our separate Cookie Policy available here.

c. Personal Data that the Cavotec Group Processes

The Cavotec Group companies collect Personal Data from other companies within the Cavotec Group when you make inquiries regarding our products and services, but those inquiries are more appropriately handled by another company within the Cavotec Group.

d. Personal Data from third parties

Finally, we receive the categories of Personal Data listed in Section 1.a. above from third parties who provide services to us, in particular search engine optimization services, hosting services, social media services, web mastering services, customer management platforms, as well as from our business partners and customers.

We may also combine the Personal Data that we collect directly from you with information that we receive from such third parties, including those that are acting on our behalf, for the purposes set out in Section 2 below.

2. How we use your Personal Data

We generally Process your Personal Data for the purposes of administering our Site, responding to your inquiries, fulfilling your requests or managing interactive customer programs, as well as for direct marketing. More specifically, we may Process your Personal Data to:

a. Manage your company's orders

This includes Processing Personal Data to be able to manage order and provide the company you represent with our products and services.

b. Respond

This includes Processing Personal Data to Process and respond to your inquiries, fulfil your requests, to respond to your communications, and manage interactive customer programmes.

c. Direct

This includes Processing Personal Data to contact you as the representative of the company with special offers and promotions and inform the company you represent about our new products and services.

d. Ensure network and information security

This includes Processing Personal Data to ensure network and information security, provide technical support for the Site, maintain internal records about relevant incidents and other security related information.

e. Legal, Regulatory, Compliance Requirements and Legal Claims

This includes Processing Personal Data to conform to legal requirements and industry standards, comply with legal process, detect and prevent fraud and misuse, establish, exercise and defend our legal rights or claims, and protect others.

f. Corporate Transactions

This includes Processing Personal Data to comply with requests of prospective or actual purchasers interested in a member of the Cavotec Group or its equity or assets, or in relation to a purchase of equity or assets by us.

3. Sharing your Personal Data

We share your Personal Data with the categories of recipients described below. In some cases, the entities below collect Personal Data directly from you on our behalf.

We share your Personal Data with our subsidiaries and affiliates, successors or assigns for all purposes listed in Section 2 above. A list of Cavotec Group companies is available in the Appendix.

We share your Personal Data with third party service providers, such as providers of marketing services, customer management platforms, hosting services, IT providers and IT support), as necessary to fulfil the purposes listed in Section 2 above. When we share Personal Data with them, we ensure that providers are bound by law and/or by contract to protect the confidentiality and security of Personal Data, and to only use Personal Data to provide requested services to us, in accordance with applicable laws.

We share your Personal Data with other companies, vendors and business partners, which perform certain functions for us, whereby these companies are themselves responsible to determine the purposes and/or means of the processing of Personal Data and for the lawfulness of the Processing, in particular: third party payment processors, banks, financial institutions and credit card companies.

Where the law requires us to obtain your prior opt-in consent, we will seek such consent before sharing your contact information with our business partners, to provide you with notices about developments, products and services that may be of interest to the company you represent.

We may disclose Personal Data to prospective or current purchasers of any interest in the Cavotec Group or its assets, or in relation to a purchase of companies or assets by the Cavotec Group.

We may be required to disclose Personal Data to courts, opposing or related parties to the legal proceedings, in response to a court order or other legal process, or as otherwise required by law. We may also share such data with courts or in the legal proceedings when we defend or enforce our rights, protect our property, assets or safety of others.

4. Retention of your Personal Data

We will keep your Personal Data for as long as is reasonably necessary for us to fulfil the purposes for which Personal Data is collected as stated herein and otherwise in compliance with applicable laws. We retain Personal Data in accordance with our internal retention guidelines, which are based on criteria that include legally mandated retention periods, operational directives or needs, and pending or potential litigation. Please contact us for further details on applicable retention periods.

5. Additional Information for Individuals Residing in the EEA, the UK, Switzerland or Where the GDPR Is Applicable

For individuals who reside in the EEA, the UK or Switzerland, the Controller responsible for the processing of your Personal Data under the GDPR is either Cavotec S.A. or the Cavotec Group company operating the Site which features this Privacy Policy. The name of that company would be indicated at the bottom of the respective homepage.

a. Legal Bases for Processing

Depending on the purpose of each processing described in Section 2 above, the Processing of your Personal Data is justified on one of the legal bases indicated below:

- your consent (which we will seek separately, if required), such as to send you direct marketing communications, unless an exception to consent applies under applicable EEA, UK or Swiss laws, and to share your Personal Data with third parties for the same purpose (e.g. the purpose in point 2.c above);
- the necessity for fulfilling a contract with you, or for taking steps, at your request, to enter into such a contract;
- the necessity for compliance with a legal or statutory obligation to which we are subject (e.g. for the relevant purposes listed in points 2.e above); or
- our legitimate interests (such as e.g. those outlined in points 2.b or 2.d above).

b. Your EEA, UK or Swiss Privacy Rights

You may exercise the following privacy rights regarding your Personal Data, if you reside in the EEA, the UK or Switzerland, or where the GDPR, or other applicable EEA, UK or Swiss data protection laws so provide, whereby these rights are subject to the conditions laid down therein.

- Access – You have the right to obtain from us confirmation if your Personal Data is being Processed, certain information in this regard and a copy of the Personal Data undergoing said Processing.
- Rectification – You have the right to request that inaccurate Personal Data be corrected and to have incomplete data completed.
- Objection – You have the right, when we Process your Personal Data based on our or a third party’s legitimate interests, to object to the Processing of your Personal Data for compelling and legitimate reasons relating to your particular situation, except in cases where legal provisions expressly provide for that Processing. In addition, you have the right to object at any time where your Personal Data is Processed for direct marketing purposes. (Please note that even if you object to the use of your Personal Data for direct marketing purposes, we will still send your company transactional messages in relation to services that you have purchased from us on behalf of the company. These include responses to your questions and information about products and services you have purchased from us on behalf of the company.)
- Portability – You have the right to receive a copy of the Personal Data that you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, and you have the right to transmit them to other data controllers. This right only exists if the Processing is based on your consent or a contract and the Processing is carried out by automated means.
- Restriction – You may request that we restrict Processing of your Personal Data if (i) you contest the accuracy of it – for a period we need to verify your request; (ii) the Processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of it and request restriction instead; (iii) we no longer need it, but you tell us you need it to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim; or (iv) you object to Processing based on public or legitimate interest – for a period we need to verify your request.
- Erasure – You may request that we erase your Personal Data if it is no longer necessary for the purposes for which we have collected it, if you have withdrawn your consent and no other legal ground for the Processing exists; if the Processing is unlawful, or if erasure is required to comply with a legal obligation.
- Right to lodge a complaint – You also have the right to lodge a complaint with a Supervisory Authority, in particular in the country of your residence in the EEA, the UK or Switzerland, or the location where the issue that is the subject of the complaint occurred.
- Right to refuse or withdraw consent – Please note that in case we ask for your consent to certain Processing, you are free to refuse to give consent and you can withdraw your consent at any time without any adverse negative consequences. The lawfulness of any Processing of your Personal Data that occurred prior to the withdrawal of your consent will not be affected.

If you wish to exercise any of the above rights, please see Section 7 below on how to contact us.

c. International Transfers of Your Personal Data

Due to the global nature of our operations, we may transfer Personal Data covered by this Privacy Policy within the Cavotec Group companies, which are based in 'third countries', i.e., countries outside of the EEA, the UK, and Switzerland, which are not deemed to offer an adequate level of data protection. In such situations, Cavotec will enter into an intra-group transfer agreement to adduce appropriate safeguards, including where necessary, the Standard Contractual Clauses for data transfers adopted by the European Commission or an appropriate body in the UK, in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

Transfers of Personal Data to external third parties located in third countries outside the EEA, the UK or Switzerland that do not provide the same level of protection to your Personal Data, take place using an acceptable data transfer mechanism, such as the EU Standard Contractual Clauses (see here), Binding Corporate Rules (see here), approved Codes of Conduct and Certifications or, in exceptional circumstances, on the basis of permissible statutory derogations.

If you wish to receive further information or, where available, a copy of the relevant data transfer mechanism, you may contact us, as explained in Section 7 below.

6. Links to Other Sites

Our Site may include links to the websites of our business partners, vendors and advertisers. Such third party websites operate according to their own terms of use and privacy policies and we have no control over such websites. More specifically, we do not endorse and are not responsible or liable for any content, advertising, products or other materials on or available from such sites.
