1. Extended information on cookies

Pursuant to article 13 of the European Regulation n. 679/2016, (concerning the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data), Cavotec SA, (hereinafter "Cavotec" or "Company"), provides you with the following information regarding the cookies installed on the domain cavotec.com, (hereinafter "Site"), or from other domains accessible through the Site.

2. What are cookies ?

Cookies are text strings sent from websites and stored on users' computer hard disks or on any device used to access the Internet (smartphone, tablet etc.). They are transmitted back to the same sites during subsequent visits. Cookies can be stored on the user's computer for variable amounts of time: either permanently, (persistent cookies), or they are erased when the browser is closed, (session cookies).

Cookies are installed by sites you visit, (first-party cookies), or by other websites, (third-party cookies), and are used to perform actions such as computer authentication, session monitoring and storing information regarding the activities of users accessing the site.

Cookies are typically defined by the following functions:

- Navigation and functionality: used respectively for authentication and user experience improvement purposes (i.e. memorisation of language preferences)
- Analysis: used by the site manager to collect information about users who visit the site
- Advertising: used to send messages in line with users' preferences collected during web browsing
- Social: used to allow interaction with social networks

Under current legislation, an explicit acceptance of cookies by the user is not required if they are defined as "technical" cookies, i.e. aimed exclusively at transmitting a communication over an electronic communication network.

As indicated by the Data Protection Supervisor, (see General Provision "Identification of simplified procedures for information and acquisition of consent for the use of cookies - 8 May 2014"), the following cookies are considered technical:

- analytical cookies where used directly by the site manager to collect information, in aggregate and anonymous form, on the number of users and how they visit the site
- navigation and functionality cookies

According to current legislation, prior consent is required for the installation of profiling cookies.

For this reason, when users access the Site, a banner informs users that cookies are adopted and that Site user needs to agree or disagree to the use of cookies. Since some of the cookies the Company uses relate to the functionality of the Site, if “disagree” is selected, the site may not work properly.
